CD&G Accountants - Australian Accountants Directory CD&G Accountants is centrally based in Geelong, providing accounting and taxation services to a large range of clients including small to large size businesses from sectors such as retail, manufacturing, primary production, tourism and consulting practices. The company also cater to individuals, partnerships, trusts and SMSFs. CD&G Accountants' focus is to satisfy the individual needs of all its clients at an affordable price. To do this, the company endeavours to establish a one on one relationship with each client. Using a proactive attitude it then identifies the relevant issues drawing on its extensive understanding of business, taxation, investment, superannuation and SMSF. CD&G will certainly help with tax return but its professional staff can help with complex business accounting, including guidance on record keeping and documentation, services and advice for primary producers, property investments, both in Australia and in the USA, succession planning, strategic advice and guidance with self-managed superannuation.
